

Making Your Mind Work for You

Your thought life is very important to your health, livelihood and success. Therefore, you must do whatever it takes to experience and realize victory in your mental capacity. Once this happens, you are sure to realize this same victory in your physical and spiritual life. You have access to this book right now. What you do with it is up to you. Once you make the decision to access the wealth of information contained herein, you are sure to be: Making Your Mind Work For You. Darrell L. Peavy is the author of two additional books: 1. Your Circumstance: Its Not That Bad and 2. Breaking Free From The Crutch Syndrome. He currently resides in Carthage, Mississippi with his wife and daughter. He is also the pastor of Growing People Church located in the city of Carthage. He has a passion for teaching and ministering the Word of God. And, he loves to help others come to the realization of their God-Given Purpose.

We've started our countdown to National Handbag Day on October 10, and that means we'll have special features for you every day, right up to the big event! Today, we're here to talk about the intersection of celebrity and accessories, and more specifically, how the two can become intertwined in public consciousness for years. The kinds of stars who carry a particular bag do a lot to shape the market's perception of it and the designer who created it, which is why so many brands give out free bags to stars now: they're hoping to create positive associations. In the cases you see below, though, things came along a little bit more naturally. You can't rush love, after all. Think of a bag-celeb duo we missed? Let us know in the comments!
