

108 Ways to Success Through the Heart: Quotes and Insights of a Contemplative Life

A collection of quotes, insights and contemplations on life, business, wealth, work, art, purpose and finding more peace in our daily lives. Written by an introverted yoga teacher, bi-polar meditator, digital nomad entrepreneur and cultural misfit who drinks copious amounts of green tea. People think that being unemployed and single is the worst situation possible. I say its one of the best situations possible because it gives you plenty of time and space to read books, learn new skills, start a business and work on yourself. ~ Michael Hetherington
Inspired over many years of practice and study in yoga, Buddhist meditation, digital nomading, Chinese medicine and the fine art of staring out of a window. ***For a limited time, you can get this authors latest book, The Yin & Yang Lifestyle Guide, for free - click here to find out more > michaelhetherington.com.au/freebook (just copy and paste into your browser)***

We've started our countdown to National Handbag Day on October 10, and that means we'll have special features for you every day, right up to the big event! Today, we're here to talk about the intersection of celebrity and accessories, and more specifically, how the two can become intertwined in public consciousness for years. The kinds of stars who carry a particular bag do a lot to shape the market's perception of it and the designer who created it, which is why so many brands give out free bags to stars now: they're hoping to create positive associations. In the cases you see below, though, things came along a little bit more naturally. You can't rush love, after all. Think of a bag-celeb duo we missed? Let us know in the comments!
