

Feeling--- I Am Not Good Enough: Healing Your Life (Vibration Book 8)

As children and teen-agers many of us knew we were bad. We knew something was wrong with us. We knew we were flawed. And We felt unloved by our parents, our teachers and all the adults in our lives. We were just never good enough.

We entered adulthood thinking and feeling that we were bad. Our mantra was and continues to run non-stop in the background of our minds I Am Not Good Enough. I Am Not Good Enough. I Am Not Good Enough. If our parents do not see good in us How can anyone else see good in us? How can we see good within ourselves? How can God Love us? We have learned to look for bad or not good enough in everything we do. We have learned to pick on ourselves unmercifully. We have learned to look at others and judge them as less than or better than we know we are. Comparing ourselves to others is how we are trying to find our way to I'm Acceptable and I'm Good Enough. Maybe, someone can Love me when I am good enough. We have looked outside of ourselves and found ourselves wanting. We are asking our parents, siblings, partners, children, employer, strangers, church and God to Love us. We are living from within our fairy tales of I Am Not Good Enough. I Am Unlovable. I Am Unworthy. We Can Only See What We Are Looking For The Universe cannot make us see Love when we are looking for the ways we are not Loved. The Universe cannot make us see Good Enough when we are looking for the ways we are not good enough. The Universe cannot make us see I Am Worthy when we are looking for the ways we are not worthy of good Love.

We've started our countdown to National Handbag Day on October 10, and that means we'll have special features for you every day, right up to the big event! Today, we're here to talk about the intersection of celebrity and accessories, and more specifically, how the two can become intertwined in public consciousness for years. The kinds of stars who carry a particular bag do a lot to shape the market's perception of it and the designer who created it, which is why so many brands give out free bags to stars now: they're hoping to create positive associations. In the cases you see below, though, things came along a little bit more naturally. You can't rush love, after all. Think of a bag-celeb duo we missed? Let us
