

Beyond the Winning Streak: Using Conscious Creation to Consistently Win at Life

While a product marketing manager with Apple (and now an award-winning author of eight Seth/Jane Roberts-based books, including her popular Living a Safe Universe series), Lynda Madden Dahl read Seth Speaks, her first book by Jane Roberts. In it she learned an astonishing message: Our lives are crafted from the fabric of our thoughts, feelings and beliefs. What seems to happen TO us is caused BY us. By changing our beliefs, we literally redesign our lives into what we choose to experience. In this, her first book, Lynda shares her doubts, disillusionment and triumphs as she seeks to understand conscious creation...and ends up becoming a vice president in the computer industry and creating a million dollars. Through her simple step-by-step approach, Lynda sets our feet on the path to freedom, abundance and health. And, as usual in her books, she consistently brings us back to the practical aspects of creation, and what they mean to a fulfilling, abundant life. SOME WHO HAVE ENDORSED BOOKS by Lynda Madden Dahl: Robert F. We've started our countdown to National Handbag Day on October 10, and that means we'll have special features for you every day, right up to the big event! Today, we're here to talk about the intersection of celebrity and accessories, and more specifically, how the two can become intertwined in public consciousness for years. The kinds of stars who carry a particular bag do a lot to shape the market's perception of it and the designer who created it, which is why so many brands give out free bags to stars now: they're hoping to create positive associations. In the cases you see below, though, things came along a little bit more naturally. You can't rush love, after all. Think of a bag-celeb duo we missed? Let us know in the comments!
